Health,

water, food and a clean environment

It's my right to be healthy

It doesn't matter where I live, it's my right to be healthy and safe. That means that the food and water I consume are clean and nutritious. It means that where I live should be safe and clean, and that there's information and support available to help keep where I live safe and clean.

(Art. 24 of the UN Convention on the Rights of the Child).
